WORK EXPERIENCE

GOMYCODE— Frontend Developer

February 2025 – PRESENT

- Spearheaded the design and development of scalable enterprise-level web applications using React, ensuring responsive UI/UX and optimal performance across devices and browsers.
- Implemented dynamic frontend components for CRUD operations with React, integrating RESTful APIs to handle real-time data updates.
- Integrated RESTful APIs using Axios to fetch and display real-time data, enabling dynamic content rendering and enhancing the user experience across multiple app modules.
- Implemented advanced state management using Zustand and Redux, enabling predictable data flow, reducing bugs, and improving maintainability of complex applications.
- Developed reusable components and managed application data flow using React Context API, along with strategic prop drilling to support component hierarchies without compromising performance.
- Built dynamic single-page applications (SPAs) using react-router-dom, providing users with smooth transitions and consistent navigation across different sections of the app.
- Maintained clean and collaborative codebases using GitHub for version control and facilitated efficient deployments to live servers, contributing to continuous integration and delivery pipelines.
